Before I say anything else, please grab a cup of coffee (for an inevitable spit-take or two,) sit down, and read the lyrics to David Leinweber's song entitled Little Sophomore Girl… Even better, go buy it on iTunes for $0.99 and read along to the actual music.

> Little sophomore girl
>
> Have you been around the world
>
> For you sound like you know
>
> Just the way the world should go
>
> Please complete this form
>
> Before you head back to your dorm
>
> But be kind to me sophomore girl
>
> Little sophomore queen
>
> How'd you get so very mean

Was it how you were bred

Reborn in to your head

How'd you get so wise

With those blinders on your eyes

Won't you tell me please

Sophomore girl

Everybody body please make way

The sophomore girl arrives today

She's got things she'd like to say

And you should see her GPA

Opinions of the ying yang two

She'll gladly share each one with you

So cute when she is speaking

Don't let her catch you peeking

Little sophomore lass

Why'd you sign up for my class

When it's clear you detest

All the white men of the west

All the powers that be

They all know you're OCD

But they bow low to the sophomore girl

Everybody please make way

>
> Guess it's really quite a switch
>
> Indeed the irony is rich
>
> The course evaluation from a little sophomore bitch
>
> You hurt me really bad
>
> But I don't think that you are sad
>
> So to hell with you sophomore girl
> To hell with the sophomore girl

Okay… Let's break this down, shall we?

First of all, let me remind you that David Leinweber is an associate professor of history at Oxford College of Emory University. An associate PROFESSOR. That implies a certain level of professionalism, correct?

Here's what I think. I think this guy was simply pissed off that someone exponentially more attractive than him gave a negative course evaluation in his class, and to take out his frustration, he wrote this little ode to sexual tension.

Apparently, this girl is not someone he would consider to be a 'good' person, based off the lyrics, "Little sophomore queen, how'd you get so very mean? Was it how you were bred? Reborn in to your head." Jealous much?

A hint of racism is heard when Leinweber makes reference to the 'ying yang two' implying that this girl is of Asian descent. This suspicion is further verified by the lyrics, "Little sophomore lass, why'd you sign up for my class? When it's clear you detest all the white men of the west." I'm not even sure what to say here… UBER CREEPY.

He also alludes to his obsession with this girl as he sings, "She's kinda cute when she is speaking. But don't let her catch you peeking." Yeah bitch, because if someone saw a professor peeking and staring, it would be WEIRD AS FUCK! Sorry, it's the truth.

This song is SO not normal. In my opinion, it is very unprofessional for a college professor to be singing songs about subjects such as this. It's reminiscent of Hannibal Lecter in a way… Again, CREEPY.

Finally, referring to a student as a 'little sophomore bitch' is NOT okay. Disgusting. Wrong. Vile. Blah.

Creepy, creepy, creepy.
